Yvette Nicole Brown stars as “Cookie,” a tough, sassy and smart Boxer who has a hard exterior but is sensitive to the core in “Pound Puppies” on the Hub Network. “Pound Puppies” is executive produced by Bart Jennett, Chris Bartleman, Kirsten Newlands and Stephen Davis and is from Hasbro Studios.

Brown made her feature film debut in the romantic comedy “Little Black Book,” alongside Brittany Murphy, Holly Hunter and Kathy Bates. She had supporting roles in other films, including “Hotel for Dogs,” “The Ugly Truth,” “500 Days of Summer,” “Repo Men,” “The Island,” “Dreamgirls,” “The Kid and I,” “Tropic Thunder,” and “Meet Dave.” Later this year, she will appear in “Percy Jackson: Sea of Monsters” alongside Logan Lerman and Stanley Tucci.

On television, Brown currently stars as “Shirley” in “Community.” She landed her first television role on “Girlfriends” followed shortly after with a series-regular role on “The Big House.” She has since appeared on series as varied as “Entourage,” “Curb Your Enthusiasm,” “The Office,” “That’s So Raven,” “Half & Half,” “Sleeper Cell,” “House,” “Two And A Half Men,” “That 70’s Show,” “Boston Legal,” and “Drake & Josh.”

As a teen, Brown was signed to Motown Records and managed by Michael Bivins of New Edition and BBD. She was featured on “The East Coast Family Vol. 1” album.

A proud native of East Cleveland, Ohio, Yvette currently resides in Los Angeles.
