ALL-NEW SEASON OF ID'S LONGEST RUNNING NEWSMAGAZINE, ON THE CASE WITH PAULA ZAHN RETURNS JULY 15

(Silver Spring, Md.) – Emmy Award-winning journalist Paula Zahn brings her passion for justice back to America's leading true-crime network Investigation Discovery (ID) for an all-new season of ON THE CASE WITH PAULA ZAHN. Premiering Sunday, July 15 at 10/9c, ON THE CASE takes viewers inside some of the nation's most fascinating true crime investigations that shook communities to their core. Driven by Zahn's unparalleled journalistic expertise, each episode of ON THE CASE delves into every twist and turn of these heartbreaking cases. Anchored by insightful and emotional interviews with criminal experts and those closest to the victims, Zahn profiles fascinating investigations from across America.

The season premiere of ON THE CASE follows the disappearance of 8-year-old April Tinsley in Fort Wayne, Indiana. After a playdate with a friend just a few blocks away, April never came home. Her mother immediately called anyone who might know her daughter's whereabouts. When hours pass without any sign of April, police join the search. Three days later, a jogger discovers April's lifeless body on the side of a road. She had been sexually assaulted and murdered. With no leads, the case went cold for two years until a chilling message was discovered not far from where April's body was found. The message was the beginning of a terrifying game of cat and mouse with the killer that has lasted for decades.

Additional episodes of ON THE CASE episodes in this season include:

Long Sought Truth

Premieres Sunday, July 22 at 10/9c

A Palmdale, California gas station had been robbed and the evidence indicated that the 20-year-old attendant, Leslie Long, had been abducted. The young woman's purse was on the ground and her car was parked behind the office. Investigators put out a statewide bulletin on the young mother of three, the intense effort, would end when investigators discovered her body three day later, just 8 miles away from the gas station. Sherriff's deputies got and important lead from a neighboring county that had recently helped convict a killer in a similar abduction/murder. They also learned that he had broken out of prison just days before the crime. Ultimately, it would take decades to follow the evidence to the long-sought truth behind Leslie Long's murder.

A Different Time

Premieres Sunday, July 29 at 10/9c

When Barbara Rowan left her Bensalem, Pennsylvania house on a warm summer afternoon in 1984, she had a baseball mitt, a ball and a radio. She didn't tell anyone where she was going or who she was meeting. When she failed to return home at her 7 P.M. curfew, her parents began contacting neighbors trying to locate the 14-year-old. Her family told police that Barbara was an incredibly reliable young girl who would not be late or cause her parents to worry. The investigation took a dark turn based on a neighbor's report. He claimed that the 14-year-old had told him that she was on her way to meet "her coach". Investigators were troubled Barbara didn't play any organized sports, so who could she have been going to meet? It now seemed likely that Barbara had been the victim of a predator who had preyed on her trusting nature.
