There's no such thing as a bad cat, just a cat that needs help. – Jackson Galaxy

FUR-IOUS FELINES GO CLAW TO CLAW WITH “THE CAT DADDY,” BUT EVERYONE WINS, IN THE NEW SEASON OF MY CAT FROM HELL PREMIERING APRIL 29

Jackson Enlists Kitten Expert Hannah Shaw to Save the Lives of 50 Kittens

(Los Angeles, CA – March 22, 2017) Cat behaviorist Jackson Galaxy has seen everything in his long career and the newest season of MY CAT FROM HELL is no exception. Between working with a cat named after him and saving the lives of 50 kittens, Jackson delves into his personal evolution exploring his past, present and future as he connects with remarkable felines in some of the most extreme circumstances. New episodes of MY CAT FROM HELL premiere Saturday, April 29th at 9:00 PM ET/PT.

This season Jackson helps guardians fall back in love with caring for their best friend. He works with a couple hesitant to have children due to their cats' behavior, a family who bought a bi-level house just to keep their cats separated and, in an absolute first, Jackson encounters a cat guardian with an extreme cat phobia. Plus, in order to save the lives of 50 kittens due to overcrowded shelters, Jackson enlists renowned kitten expert Hannah Shaw to drive 16 hours with him from Los Angeles to Colorado's Boulder Humane – the shelter where he got his start – which has agreed to take them in and find them loving homes.

The series' segment, My Cat from Heaven, returns with heartwarming stories exemplifying the healing power of the feline, including a cat and his guardian who lift each other's spirit as they both fight chronic diseases, a cat who brings comfort to hospital patients of all ages and a young cat who becomes a surrogate to foster kittens.

Jackson Galaxy's aim is to correct cat behavior and improve relationships between felines and their guardians...sometimes, it's not only the cat's attitude that needs Galaxy's magic touch! In MY CAT FROM HELL, Jackson always has one goal in mind - to prevent cat guardians from giving up their cats and contributing to already overcrowded shelters.
