WHO: A thriving business and bustling family life has real estate expert and designer Christina Hall looking forward to great things ahead in a new season of her HGTV hit docu-series Christina on the Coast. During the series' previous run, more than 21 million viewers watched Christina's personal and professional journey continue to unfold in Southern California, and in the fresh eight episodes, she and her team, including fellow designer and project manager James Bender, will delight more clients with stunning home renovations in her signature style.
